

BEVERLY HILLS COURIER

The Newspaper of Record for the World of Beverly Hills

VOLUME: L NUMBER 42 $135 PER YEAR - $1.25 PER COPY • www.bhcourier.com SINCE 1965 October 16, 2015

Tower Cancer Patients Feel The Love At Gavert Atelier

By Laura Coleman

Building on the success of last year's inaugural "Day of Beauty" at Gavert Atelier, Tower Cancer Research Foundation's young leadership division organized its second day of beauty and support for women in treatment.

The poignant day-long event was filled with smiles and support as dozens of women enjoyed not just the camaraderie of others going through a similar experience, but the pure indulgence of facials, hair-cuts, nail polishing and other beauty services, all courtesy of aestheticians and stylists who donated their time at the Beverly Hills salon.

The day was founded by Jen Levy in memory of her friend, Laura Shanahan, founding member of Cancer Free Generation, the young leadership division of Tower Cancer Research Foundation. This project is a collaboration between two Tower Cancer Research Foundation division, LA CanSurvive and Cancer Free Generation.

FASHION— The community joined together to celebrate women in treatment at Tower Cancer Research Foundation's second "Day of Beauty." The event was held at Gavert Atelier in Beverly Hills. Pictured above: Jen Levy, Cancer Free Generation Boardmember, founded the event last year in honor of her friend Laura Shanahan.

For more information, visit www.towercancerfoundation.org/cancer-freegeneration.